A LETTER
TO A
NOBLE LORD,

Relating to the Proceedings against

Dr. SACHEVERELL.

My LORD,

I. AMONG all those Eminent Virtues, which Attract the Universal Love and Esteem of Men towards those in whom they shine with a more than Ordinary Lustre, I have often heard Your Lordship say, there was none more truly Excellent, or more rarely to be found

found at this time oth<sup>r</sup> Day, than a firm and steady Adherence to the Unalterable Principles of True Religion and Loyalty.

2. And indeed My Lord, considering the many Violent Attacks from Interest, and your Shocking importunities of (perhaps,) a Man's dearest Friends and nearest Relations, with the Sophisticall Arguments of cunning Reasoners, that lie in wait to Deceive; I am something apt to wonder, that we have so many Brave Spirits, and Clear Heads among us, who are both Resolute to maintain, and able to Discern the Truth, notwithstanding the Enticeing Allurements, Affrighting Menaces, or smooth Reasonings of its most Violent and cunning Opposers.

3. At this time Especially, it requires a more than Ordinary Courage, and steadiness of mind, to hold fast our Integrity; When so much Devilish Industry is us'd, to set things in a false Light, and when there are not wanting, ev'n among those whose proper Business and Profession it is to Direct us into the way of Truth, some False Brethren, who call Evil Good, and Good Evil, and make no Scruple from the very Pulpit to sound the Trumpet to Rebellion.

4. Yet notwithstanding all these Discouragements, Your Lordship has constantly remain'd a Noble Instance as well of a Discerning Judgment an unquenchable Zeal, and firm constancy to the Principles and Interest of that Church, which Your Lordship is so Thoroughly convinc'd to be the purest in Christendom; as of an Inviolable Loyalty to the Crown; which can never be Happy in a Better Subject.

5. And now there is again an Opportunity put into Your Lordships Hands of asserting the Primitive Doctrines of the Christian Church, of Vindicating the express Words of holy Writ, and those Expositions of 'em, which were the constant sense sense of all the greatest Ornaments of our Church, from the Reformation to this very Day; and of Declaring afresh the Abhorrence Your Lordship has always born to the Principles of Rebellion and Confusion. In short My Lord, the case of Dr. Sacheverell, which is now coming before Your Lordship in the H. of Peers, as it is of the greatest Importance, so it has fix'd the Eyes of all the Lovers of the Church upon your Lordship, it is in a great Measure from Your Lordships moving Eloquence, great Interests, and known Affection to Church and State, that they expect to meet with, the wish'd for Success.

6. I am not going to tire Your Lordship with a Long Detail of the Merits of the Passive Obedience Cause, which Your Lordship understands far better than I can ever pretend to do, neither am I entring upon a set Defense of Dr. Sacheverell in which it were the height of Vanity in me to expect to equal himself, and his Learned Counsel. I shall only beg leave to lay before Your Lordship in a loose Epistolary way, some Observations concerning this Prosecution and the late furious Controversy about the Doctrine of Non-Resistance, which I hope may conduce a little to the Opening the Eyes of some well-meaning People, who cannot see thro' the Specious Disguises of Designing Hypocrites.

7. And first as to the time. I Remember when the Occasional Bill was in Agitation, there were several Objections made against the passing it; at that time, and altho' I cannot think they had much Weight in 'em, then, yet I may safely Affirm that they may be now turn'd against the very party that first made 'em, and that with more than treble Force; If it was then so very unseasonable a time, for passing a Law to prevent the worst of Hypocrites coming into a share of the Government of the State; because her Majesty was known to be so good a Mother of the Church;

Church; as to render all Fears of its safety during her Administration Vain and unreasonable, if it was then an improper time to raise Heats and Jealousies in the Nation, because we were Embroyl'd in a War; If these were Objections then, for God's sake are they not so still? Is it now a seasonable time to Preach up Rebellion, and the Sovereign Power of the People, when we have so Excellent a Princess on the Throne, One who makes it her whole study to make all her People as Easy and Happy as possible under the mildest Administration. Is Her Majesty such a Tyrant and Oppressor of her Subjects, that She is by no means to be born with any Longer! Or are they the Vilest of Ingrates? Poisonous Vipers that would gnaw the Royal Bosom that warms them; those I mean that Preach up Resistance; who let their pretences be never so Specious, either have another Common-Wealth in View or else mean nothing at all, but of this more by and by.

Again, are we not still Engaged in War? And is it then a proper time olent Prosecutions, which 'tis always Remarkt serve only to heighten Party-Animosities? Is not this serving the Common Enemy with a Witness, who has hardly any hopes left but from our Divisions, and who I heartily Fear has more Emiffaries among us then we are aware of, how else came so many of the Jesuitical Principles to be so lately reviv'd.

8. In answer to all this, they run us down with the Odious Names of Jacobites, Perkinites, &c. and obstinately maintain, that it is impossible for us to be well-Wishers to the present Establishment, except upon Resisting Principles. And this they lay down as a self-Evident Truth, and have continual recourse to it as to an Unanswerable Argument of the Justice of their cause. I shall therefore My Lord, beg Your Lordships Patience while I endeavour to prove in as few Words as possible the Falsehood of this Aspersion upon us, and that there is much more Reason for the Pretender to hope for Assistance from their Principles than ours.

8. And

9. And first, I think I may venture to lay it Down for a certain Truth, that those may and ought to be suppos'd Friends to any Government who endeavour to fix its Title to Supreme Power upon the Best and surest Foundation, such as are the Laws of God, and the Fundamental and Ancient Constitution of the Nation where this Government is settled.

10. Secondly, I may also assert that those who endeavour to Undermine the Ancient and undoubted Title of any Prince in Order to substitute a new and more Precarious one, are to be suppos'd less heartily to Espouse his Title than the former.

11. These things premis'd, let us come now to the case in hand. We who are for Passive Obedience, found her Majesty's Title, upon the Ancient bottom of Hereditary Succession, and affirm that her Majesty is true and lawful Sovereign of these Kingdoms, as she is the first surviving Heir of the Line of the Stuarts whose Title to these these Realms is undoubted, and we utterly Deny that there is any Person in the World who can claim an equal Right. We say also, that as our Constitution consists of King, Lords and Commons, (yet so that the King or Queen is supreme and independent,) they may jointly (in case the next Heir in the Right Line, be according to the Laws incapable of succeeding) devolve the Crown to the next in Blood that is capable; or rather that it does of it self Devolved to him or her, that is so Entitled. Now by our Laws, no Papist is capable of Succession; and therefore we acknowledge the Right of the Hannover Line as being the next capable; and so consequently, according to our own Principles think our selves bound to Espouse her Majesty's Title, and that of the House of Hannover after her Decease, without Heirs of her Body. And all this we say is highly consistent with the Doctrine of Non-Resistance, of which more perhaps by and by.

12. They on the Contrary, take no manner of Notice of Her Majesty's Hereditary

Hereditary Right, but fix it all upon the Principles of Resistance, and that new-angled Notion of the Power being necessarily inherent in the People, who (say they,) may chuse their own Kings, may, and Depose 'em when they Please to say it is necessary for the Good of the Publick, that is, in plain English, when they think fit; for they are Judges in their own Cause, and no Appeal can lie from these Sovereign Lords: The latter of which Notions is as bad Law, as the former is Gospel. Nay, since this Controversy has been reviv'd with so much Heat, they have gone so far, as to assert in Publick Company's, the reality of a Pr---e of Wales, or Son to late King James, in order to make Her Majesty meerly their own Creature.

13. Judge now, My LORD, which of these two Parties ought to be suppos'd best Friends to the present Establishment; those who maintain that it is agreeable to all our Ancient Laws, and Constitutions, ons, or those who derive it wholly from the Good-Will of the People. I think it is very clear that her Present Majesty's Title is best secur'd by Old English Principles; and I doubt not but your Lordship thinks so too.

14. If we may guess at these Mens Designs by the Natural Tendencies of their open and avow'd Principles, I am afraid we shall find 'em none of the Best. Their Preaching up Resistance at this time, and under so Happy an Establishment, is no great sign of their being the best Friends to it: This I am sure of, the Pretender can never come in without Resistance to the Government we are now under. Or perhaps 'tis a Common Wealth they aim at, and truly it looks very like such a Design when the very same Notions are so industriously spread abroad, which brought King Charles to the Block. I can shew your Lordship Mr. Hoadly's Measures of Obedience in Print before he was Born, in very many of those Seditious Pamphlets that

lly Pav'd the way to the Grand Rebellion in Forry one. Nay, the substance of that very Ma- Sermon which the Author above-mention'd lish Preach'd on purpose to prove St. Paul a our Whigg, or in his own Words, A Resister of the Civil Magistrate, is now Extant in a Sermon Preach'd by Nye before the House of Commons in 1643. We all know how of Dismal the Consequences were of these am Hellish Doctrines. God grant we may ne-est. ver see and feel 'em again.

is 15. On the other side, my L O R D, nd what can reasonably be suppos'd to be the can Design of those who utterly cry down all the Resistance and Rebellion; But to move all per- their Hearers and Readers to an inviolably and Loyalty to Her Majesty? They Exhort gn all Men to study to be quiet, and do their du own Business, to Serve God and Honour the ght Queen, and think themselves bound in new Conscience to do all that lyes in their Po-O- wer to maintain and secure the Present Goin vernment both in Church and State.

16. To

16. To that scandalous Aspersion they so unjustly fling upon us, of maintaining under-hand by these Principles the Title of the Pretender; we Answer again and again, That we know no such Person. We know of none that has any Lawful Pretensions to the Imperial Crown of Great-Britain and Ireland. We never were satisfied of the Lawful Birth of a Son of King James that is yet Alive, but believe it was a Trick and a Sham put upon us by designing Jesuites; and till they prove it to be otherwise, we shall continue to think so, and act accordingly. But it is usual with that Party to load those with heaps of Scandal and Calumny, whom they are not able to Answer with Solid Reasoning. I am sure there never were more constant Assertors of Non Resistance, and more Resolute Opposers of Papery than the Fellows of Magdalen-College in Oxon, (of which Society Dr. Sacheverell is still a Member) as appears beyond all Contradiction from the History of the Reign of the late King James.

17. And now, my LORD, give me leave

leave to Observe one thing more, relating to the severe Prosecution of Dr. Sacheverell, and it is this, that those who are his greatest Enemies and most violent Opposers, are the very same Men who a few Years ago cry'd up so much, Moderation and For- bearance. They, Good Men! could not hear a word of punishing Men for their Opinions tho' never so Heterodox, and a Bill for preventing the scandalous and abominable Practices of playing Fast and Loose with God and all things Sacred; by Occasional Conforming, was to them at that time, no less than Persecution. But now the Tables are chang'd a little, who more Furious than they? The severest Proceedings Now they think are too Mild against those who stand up for the Old Principles; and so indeed it always was when they were Uppermost, and the Inhuman Treatment of poor Mr. Greenshield, and the rest of the Episcopal Ministers in Scotland, shews that they know how to put off the Lamb and resume the Lion, when it serves their Turn. As for Dr. Sacheverell, nothing

nothing will serve some of 'em but Roasting him ; using the Expression of a Furious Zealot against him , who is since Dead.

18. I wish some measure of this Heat and Zeal were employ'd against those Books which strike at the very Root of Christianity ; such as the Rights of the Church, &c. which are with so much Industry dispersed over the Nation ; and I humbly conceive if some such Proposal were now made, it would make 'em for Shame consent to the Prosecution of those Poisonous Authors , since they have been so Furious against ONE, whose Principles, they themselves must needs own to be much less Pernicious. I shall Trouble your Lordship no longer at this time, than just to assure your Lordship that none can be with more Sincerity, than I am

Your Lordship's most Humble,

And most Obedient Servant.
